

Tar Buster Instructions

Congratulations! You now own the best carbon filter on the market! It is already loaded with coconut carbon charcoal and ready to use.

After your session and depending on how many bowls you smoke, you may want to reuse the carbon. I use the carbon only 2x, but that is just me and you can judge it for yourself.

To empty the filter, hold the filter with the pointed top facing up.

Next, hold the bottom and center portion and unscrew the top.

Dump the used carbon out into a plastic cup or container. Then shake the carbon around. If any carbon has clumped together, through it out. If you had a light session, just put it back it and use it once more. If you must dump it out, then do so. Wipe everything with Isopropyl Alcohol, dry and refill with new carbon charcoal. Listen for the crunch when you tighten it back up. That is normal. The last step it to blow into each end to release any carbon dust. That's it! You're ready to use again!
